PUBLIC PERFORMANCE RIGHTS

What are Public Performance Rights?

Public Performance Rights (PPR) allow screenings of DVDs for educational purposes. PPR permit screenings in a classroom or library, or for a group outside the home when no admission is charged. PPR are included with DVDs purchased from this site. DVDs purchased from home video retailers or through any persons or sites other than this web site do NOT carry Public Performance Rights, and screening those DVDs for an audience is illegal. DVDs from those locations may be screened for private home-only use, unless Public Performance Rights are purchased separately or an open showing is arranged.

Do I need an Institutional copy?

If you are inquiring on behalf of a school, university, library, or any community center and are not charging admission, you must purchase an Institutional copy or purchase Public Performance Rights.

How much do Institutional copies cost?

An Institutional copy of the ear goes to the sound: The Work of Laetitia Sonami costs $300.00. Public Performance Rights are good for the life of the physical DVD, so by purchasing the PPR once, your organization can have unlimited screenings of the film as long as no admission is charged.

How soon will I receive my Institutional copy?

Orders will ship within seven (7) business days via the United States Postal Service. Notification will be sent once orders have shipped. Payment is required before sending an order.
